BAROQUE TREASURES

Saturday, 3rd March 2018 - 7.30 pm - Guildford Cathedral

We return to Guildford Cathedral for our first concert of 2018: a glittering collection of Baroque favourites including Bach's 3rd Brandenburg Concerto and Magnificat in D, Handel's stirring coronation anthem, Zadok the Priest and Albinoni's moving Adagio which many will know from its use in the soundtrack of several films, including Gallipoli and more recently, Manchester by the Sea.

Bach's beautiful Magnificat in D is one of his most popular vocal works and is set on a grand scale – a five-part choir and five soloists. The piece calls for a large orchestra, given its period, and we will be performing with the Brandenburg Sinfonia, whose musicians are highly respected for the clarity and interpretative quality of their playing. The work has a characteristic balance between beauty and drama and is a must-hear for any Bach aficionado.

Join us for a reflective, uplifting evening of much-loved music which has influenced and inspired composers, musicians and audiences for more than 250 years.

Programme:	Handel	Zadok the Priest
	J.S. Bach	Ich lasse dich nicht, du segnest mich denn
		Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G
	Handel	Let God arise
		Let the bright seraphim
		Let their celestial concerts all unite
	Albinoni	Adagio for organ and strings
	J.S. Bach	Magnificat in D

Vivace Chorus

Following our triumphant performance of Mahler's Second Symphony in November 2017, Vivace Chorus returns to Guildford Cathedral on 19th May, 2018 with another firm favourite – Beethoven's Symphony No. 9. We've paired this with the darkly energetic and engaging Symphony of Psalms, by Stravinsky, a programme which is guaranteed to deliver a memorable musical evening.

There will be a free pre-concert talk at 6.30pm in the Chapter House.
