

GPO's poignant concert choice

GUILDFORD Philharmonic Orchestra has selected works of particular poignancy by British composers for its Remembrance Day concert on Saturday next week.

Elgar's For the Fallen is the setting of the Laurence Binyon poem containing the immortal words "They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old..."

It is the last of the trilogy of his poems set to music by Elgar in 1915.

The concert programme continues with a much more widely known work by Elgar — his popular Enigma Variations.

The final work is Gerald Finzi's setting of Wordsworth's poem Intimations of Immortality, and Mrs. Joy Finzi will be in the Civic Hall County Room at 6.30 p.m. to discuss the composition with orchestra principal conductor Sir Charles Groves. The concert starts at 7.30 p.m.
